Every ship had full steam up and was kept in this condition ready to strike at a moment's notice. The whole Island is being fortified, and particularly is this true of Nagasaki. The Central's Opinion.

The Central Presbyterian also makes editorial mention of the war. It thinks that the disturbance in the East may be a great gain to civilization and Christian makions. "It may lead," it gays, "to a reconstruction of the nations in Eastern Asia. China and Thibter may crumble to pleces and fall into the control of different European powers, and if so, be compelled to give up some of their innuman usages. Christian missionaries may then seehre a more permanent protection and enlarged facilities for their elevating and transforming work. It was Roman conquest that introduced the gospel at first, and conquest may again be used for its further and final success."

Proceeding, the Central deplores the interruption timisions in Korea. The missionaries may will probably have to retire to Japan or to Ehanghai. The Rev. and Mrs. W. D. In speaking of the war now in progress between his country and Russia Mr. Sasakura most interestingly asserted that Japan is a country that has not been defeated for two thousand years.

"Fourteen hundred years ago our Empress sent our armies to Korea, and we defeated them in a terrible war," he said. "That was a notable war. Seven hundred years ago our people looked and saw a cloud of ships salving over the sea from Ch'na. Our people feared. Our Emperor prayed to the God of heaven and earth: 'Please save the Japanese. I will offer myself a sacrifice for my people.' Sudden'y a great storm, then 100,000 Chiness drowned in the sea, only three served alive. Our people say the 'God-wind' saved the country.

A few days ago Mr. Sasakura received a newspaper from Nagoyan, giving an interesting account of a meeting held one day at his church during the recent week of prayer. The pastor arose and said: "If we Japanese stand in righteousness, there is no chance for Ruesia to defeat us." Whereupon a young soldler arose and made a feeling speech, addressing himself gal'antly to the ladies present, and affirming that he was ready to die for them.

"We call our country "Nyppon," which means "the sunrise." and it is as fresh and beautiful as its name implies. Russia cannot whip her; must not whip her; she she win."
